Mount Nittany Medical Center's Emergency Department

Mount Nittany Medical Center's Emergency Department is sometimes physically overwhelmed, especially in the evenings, and often on weekends. To add to the complexity of triaging a busy waiting room, emergency medicine is different than it used to be. Even a handful of years ago, people are sicker today when they come to ER's and a higher percentage are admitted to inpatient departments after evaluation. Further, there is more testing and consequently more waiting than ever before.

Mount Nittany Medical Center's Emergency Department census has increased steadily; we were 10% busier this past fiscal year than we were five years ago. In terms of visits, that means that there were 5,000 more cases for doctors, nurses and staff to treat. That's an additional 14 people a day in an already bustling area of our Medical Center. And, chances are, at least some of those people have very complicated illnesses or injuries.

The Medical Center is expanding its Emergency Department to accommodate a broadening scope of care, provide a higher level of comfort, privacy and access for patients and their families, and build in flexibility and efficiency for staff. When completed in 2013, the Emergency Department will increase bed capacity from 28 to 48, and include features like pediatric-specific space and a behavioral health area.

This year's Charity Ball will benefit this much-needed and exciting Emergency Department expansion.

Your support is deeply appreciated.
